About the Medical Pharmacologists Society (MPS)

(MPS – MD Pharmacologists: Let Us Unite, Innovate, Serve)

The Medical Pharmacologists Society (MPS) is a registered professional body of MD Pharmacologists, established under the Karnataka Societies Registration Act, 1960, and functions as a not-for-profit organization. Since its inception in 2016, MPS has steadily evolved into a vibrant and respected academic platform dedicated to the advancement of medical pharmacology education, research, and professional development in India.

MPS was founded with the vision of uniting medical pharmacologists across institutions, fostering collaboration, and strengthening the role of pharmacologists in healthcare, research, regulation, and policy. Over the years, the society has successfully conducted numerous academic programs, conferences, workshops, webinars, and training initiatives, addressing both foundational and cutting-edge areas of pharmacology.

A key focus of MPS has been capacity building and skill enhancement, offering members and young pharmacologists opportunities to learn and engage with emerging domains such as pharmacogenomics, flow cytometry, Good Clinical Practice (GCP), clinical trial methodology, pharmacovigilance, research methodology, and career guidance. Through these initiatives, MPS actively contributes to nurturing competent, ethical, and future-ready pharmacologists.

The society also maintains a strong digital academic presence through its official website and an active YouTube channel, which serve as platforms for dissemination of scientific content, recorded lectures, expert discussions, and updates on society activities—extending learning beyond physical events and reaching a wider academic community.

Life Membership of MPS is open to all MD Pharmacologists, and the society warmly invites eligible professionals to join, support, and strengthen this collective academic endeavor. Life members play a crucial role in shaping the society's vision, participating in its activities, and contributing to the growth of pharmacology as a discipline.

Hosting MPSCON 2026, the official conference of the Medical Pharmacologists Society, reflects MPS's continued commitment to unite, innovate, and serve, while providing a national forum for meaningful scientific exchange, collaboration, and professional excellence.

For more details, membership, and updates, members and delegates are encouraged to engage with the society through its official platforms.
